COURT RECORD.

Court-Civil Side-Judge S. O. Prentice. George M. Allen, the defendant on the lvorce case brought by Emma L. Allen, he elecutionist, testified in his own be

Mr. Allen simply contests his wife's pplication, but does not ask for a diorce himself. He set up a defense aleging infidelity on the part of his wife, nd told a very straightforward story of what he stated that he had actually

He swore that shortly before they noved from Crown street he always ound Knight sitting with his wife when he came home from work. He did not suspect his wife of anything grong, he said, but considered it pe uliar that Knight should stay in ever; When they moved to Dwight treet Knight continued to room with them. Soon after they moved there, Allen said, frequently when he came home from work nights Knight and his wife would be sitting in the front parlor with the portieres drawn and the lights urned low.

On the night of January 5, 1893, witness said that his suspicions were aroused by his wife's conduct, and he watched her. About 12 o'clock she went into a room which opened into the room occupied by Knight and locked the door. There was a panel in the door which had a wide crack in it and through it he saw that his wife was not in the room. He also could se that the door to Knight's room from the room which his wife went into was open. He sat down and waited until almost 2 o'clock outside the door of Cnight's room. Then he broke in and st terms and told Knight that if he did not leave the house by 9 o'clock the next morning he would break every bone in his body. Witness said his brother, who was rooming with him at the time, heard the disturbance upstairs and came up in time to see things as they were. After his discovery Al-len said he and his wife went down stairs and talked until 4 o'clock in the morning. Then she told him that she had begun divorce proceedings against him. The next morning Knight moved out of the house and on January 17 his wife left him, taking the child with her. Witness stated that Knight attempted to explain the presence of Mrs. Allen in his room, but he refused to hear him and told him he would like to throw him out of doors.

When Allen finished his story the deense rested and the rebuttal was be Knight was recalled and denied presence in his room on the night re-ferred to by saying he was sick and that Mrs. Allen came into his room to give him some medicine. He denied emphatically any wrong doing.

The arguments were heard late yes-terday afternoon, Attorney T. H. Russell speaking for the defendant and Attorney Hamilton for the plaintiff. Judge Prentice reserved his decision and the ourt adjourned until 10 o'clock this

ture of Yale. One of the busiest departments of Yale university is the psychological department, over which Professor E. W. Scripture presides. Some new invention or apparatus is developed there very little while, and the world wonders at the ingenuity of the device Professor Scripture has given a reporter the particulars of an arrangement just contrived for measuring a runner's reaction time. It will be of great interest to the world of sports. In disussing the device Professor Scripture sald: "Everybody loses time. It takes tim to think and time to act. If somebody touches you with a hot poker or a lighted cigarette a certain period of time elapses before you are able to jerk your hand away. If some one touches your hand it takes time for the impression of heat to pass up the sensory nerve in the arm, through the spinal cord, into the brain. It takes still more time for the complicated brain processes to ccur, which finally result in a nerv us impulse, which passes down the notor nerves of the arm through the muscles and causes them to move the

"This time which is lost is called th reaction time. So far we have considered it only a physiological matter Viewed from the psychological or men-tal side, this process consists in feeling an impression of heat and in willing to draw the hand away. Let us conside ound his wife and Knight. Allen said for a moment if there were no reaction to reprimanded his wife in the strongtime. If you could withdraw your hand the instant anything touched it, a ho coal could be applied to the skin and you could feel, and yet there would be no time for the coal to burn the skin The length of the reaction time is it many cases a very important factor In the runner it must be made very short. In the whale it is very conven ient that the time is extremely long The sailor can drive the harpoon int the whale. It takes so long for the impulse to run up and back the long nerves in the whale that the sailor has time to get his boat out of the way before the whale strikes with his

> "In running sprint races it is very important to save even the fifth of a second. It has been proved by ex-periment that the time which elapses the firing of the starter's pistol and the actual starting of the run ner is long enough to influence the win ning of a race. This is the runner's reaction time. The sound strikes his ear, the nervous impulse goes to the brain, the brain processes must occur and then the impulses must go out to his legs. The reaction time of a run ner may vary from one-sixth to over one-third of a second. The stopwatch es record in fifths of a second. So that the quick man may gain enough from

"An arrangement for measuring unner's reaction time down to the thousandth of a second has been contrived in the Yale laboratory. The starter's pistol is arranged so that an contact is broken when the pistol goes off. A thread is attached to the right foot of the runner. This thread breaks an electric contact the moment the run-ner starts. Each of these electric contacts makes a spark on a smoked cylin der in such a way that the time which has elapsed between the first contact and the second can be measured."

Amos Mortimer Kept in Charge of Keeper. Amos Mortimer, the secretary of th international Building and Loan asso lation, who was arrested Wednesday ov the United States authorities, charg d with using the mails for fraudulen purposes, stayed at the Tontine hote Wednesday night in charge of W. E Hosmer, who was secured as a keeper He was doing business at his office in the Hoadley building yesterday, his keeper being with him everywhere he went. He paid a bill to Clarence Ryder amounting to $300 for printing for the concern. Mortimer had a balance of $420 in the Mechanics' bank and Ryder placed an attachment on the deposit.

There is reason to believe that there s such a man as T. C. Jones, the alleg ed president of the concern, and that he lives at Bethel, Conn., and owns a portion of a railroad running from Jonesburgh to Hudson in New York state.

It was ascertained yesterday that the institution is registered in a number of states, including Pennsylvania and oth-

r states west and south.

The New York World of yesterday norning contained an account of Mortimer's career at Mount Vernon, N. Y. He supported a fashionable establishment, which afterwards burned to the ground under suspicious circumstances His furniture was heavily insured and the police advised the insurance companies not to pay the claims, owing to these suspicious circumstances.

Mortimer is held for a preliminary hearing before Commissioner Wright at t o'clock to-morrow afternoon. No further effort will be made to secure ball,
